Part 2 possible answer 1

I would like to introduce you my English teacher I admire a lot, Miss. Feng, in senior high school. She is still having baby fat with long curly hair, just like a young girl student.

Most of our classmates, including myself, got higher mark than thought in College Entrance exam with day and night hard working with Miss Feng's rigid rules and effective guidance.

Part 2 possible answer 2

Besides teaching English well, she also had an unique style to manage students, which I admired a lot and also made her become the best teacher knowing us most.

Due to the high burden of learning for Year 12 students, while most other teaching staff suggested that school should cancel PE class, Miss. Feng insisted in maintaining our activity extra curriculum. Therefore, she persuaded others , saying that adolescence need to strike a balance between intelligence and physical potential.

Part 2 possible answer 3

She is not only my teacher but also is a precious friend for me. When I meet some difficulties, I'm habituated to tell her. I still remember that in a café she gave me a big hug as knowing I failed to declare to a boy, and she told me some experience about herself.

This hug inspired me deeply, and immediately helped me find security back. Believe it or not, I changed a lot, thx to her drag me out of the plight, I became back the shiny girl.

Part 2 my own learning...
