What is the most interesting thing about your major/work?

Teamwork appeals to me most. When I work with my teammates, I have to learn how to negotiate, compromise and collaborate with others.

And when we finally get something done, we think all the hard work and efforts finally get a big payoff.

The feeling is indescribable.

What is the most difficult thing in your major/work?

Well, I am afraid that I can't particularly name one thing which is extremely difficult for me, I guess sometimes it is just a kind of invisible pressure, like some tough jobs (assignments), tight deadlines, the desire to stand out from colleagues/classmates, hard to fit in a new group, complicated interpersonal skills.

What do you want to do after you graduate?

It has always been my dream to work in the field of finance because it will give me lots of happiness and fulfillment. Besides, it can guarantee me a high salary and great social status.

How was your primary school?

It was great and left me so many beautiful memories. At that time, I was so innocent, carefree and imaginative! There was no pressure from study, work or life! I so want to go back to those days when I was in primary school!

Should people who work extra hours at weekends should get double paid or triple paid?

Definitely. Weekends are the time when people are supposed to have a rest at home, spend the quality time with family. And working at weekends means that they have to sacrifice their private time, so they deserve the extra money.

Hometown

Where do you come from? Tell me something about your hometown.

I am local, born and bred. Beijing is a metropolitan city which is a little bit of everywhere and unlike anywhere. In other words, it is a place where you can drink in both historical and modern atmosphere.

Is your hometown suitable for young guys to live?

Definitely, it offers young guys more opportunities, better education, good social service, excellent healthcare and great entertainment spots.

谢谢
